Collaboration

Hands-on expert guidance to establish your organization's intelligent automation foundation and first processes.

When it is time to take the first critical steps of your organization's intelligent automation journey—the steps that can make or break your attempts to deliver value and digital transformation—you don't have to figure it out on your own.

To help you build a solid, best-practice based foundation for automation success, Blue Prism offers Collaboration, a Starter Success Package designed to provide expert mentorship throughout the first nine months of using your Blue Prism digital workforce and to establish production-ready processes.

When you choose Collaboration, here's what to expect:

- 5 days spent reviewing best-practice guidance for infrastructure, governance, and delivery methodology.
- 10 days of design and development coaching
- Usage of the Process Assessment Tool to identify automation candidates and establish pipeline.
- Introduction to Capture, a process definition document (PDD) and Blue Prism process skeleton auto-generator
- 3 days of review, during the 3rd month with a focus on build quality, ongoing pipeline, and success to date
- 2 additional days of review during 9th month, with a focus on reporting, evangelism, and maturity

VALUE AND POTENTIAL OUTCOMES:

- Engaged, hands-on mentoring from Blue Prism Success Service experts

- Expert training and guidance for your newly established intelligent automation team, while delivering production processes

- Processes delivered into production that are scalable, reusable, and robust.
- Reduce the risk of stalled efforts with best-practice based first-step guidance.

- Access to Blue Prism Success Services expertise, guidance, and mentorship throughout the first 9 months of your automation effort
