

KNOW WHERE TO START

Set your digital workforce up for quick wins and repeatable success.

Blue Prism's Process Assessment Tool is a web-based solution that qualifies and prioritizes processes according to automation-readiness and potential business value.

We're taking the guesswork out of intelligent automation by telling you ahead of time which processes will be easiest to implement, and how much cost savings they're likely to yield—setting your digital workforce up for quick wins and repeatable success.

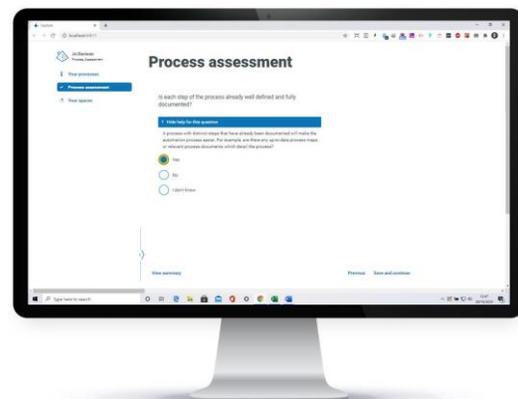

Inside the Process Assessment Tool

1. Process Assessment

Complete a brief online survey to qualify and prioritize processes for automation. At the end of the survey, you'll get an instant recommendation for that process.

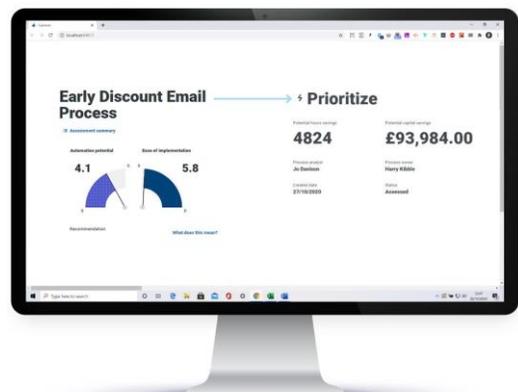

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT

- Clear picture of your automation opportunity
- User-friendly, centralized results dashboard
- Key statistics at a glance
- Proof of value for intelligent automation
- Informed, strategic next steps in your journey

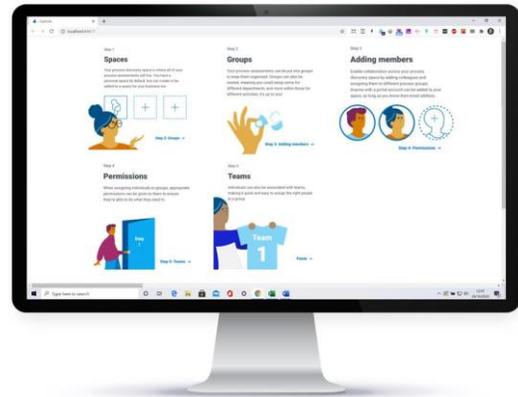

2. Your Processes

After you've assessed a few processes, the Your Processes dashboard will show you the number of processes that are ready for automation now, how many need review, and how many need significant work before they are true candidates for automation.

3. Your Spaces

Your Spaces is a flexible and secure user-group management platform that makes it easier than ever to securely govern and support the rollout of process assessment across the entire organization—all with an enterprise-level view of your automation opportunity pipeline.
